

The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) has awarded fiscal year 2026 funding to all 50 states under the Rural Health Transformation Program, a five-year federal initiative designed to strengthen access, infrastructure, and workforce capacity in rural communities. The program distributes $10 billion annually from 2026 through 2030 as part of a broader $50 billion investment in rural healthcare.

Funding is divided between equal baseline allocations to all states and additional awards based on rural population, system needs, and projected program impact. The following alphabetical list summarizes each state's FY2026 award amount.
